

Portfolio Preparation

Anaesthetics CT1

The Portfolio station is one part of the selection process and is designed to assess past achievements, commitment to specialty and career progression to date.

The first half of the station will be used to confirm your self-assessment score from the responses you provided in your application form. You will therefore be expected to provide evidence to support each option that you chose.

This guide will talk you through the kind of evidence that is expected and the order that you should present this for the panel. You will also be scored on the organisation of your portfolio. Should you fail to follow the guidance contained within this document, both in terms of order and evidence, you should expect to receive a low mark for organisation.

The second half of the portfolio station will be used to explore areas of your portfolio in more detail. In particular, assessment will be made on evidence of reflective practice, your career progression and your commitment to the training programme. Achievements and interests outside of medicine will also be taken into account.

Please note: the facility to access e-Portfolio at the selection centre will not exist.

If the evidence provided at the portfolio station does not match the score that you awarded yourself in your application, the assessors will alter the score for that domain; the score may be reduced or increased depending on whether you over or under scored yourself. If the evidence is not present to validate the score of a domain, the assessors will alter the score to match the available evidence. If there is no evidence for that domain, the score will be adjusted to zero.

If, during the portfolio station you are found to have seriously misrepresented yourself in your application form, the award of an overall portfolio score of zero may be made, and you may be referred to the GMC on grounds of breaching probity standards (GMC: Good Medical Practice, paragraphs 56–76).
